

Global Energy Parliament Statement on Eliminating Violence Against Women

In the wake of the tragic violence against a young woman in Delhi that has shaken the nation of India and shocked the rest of the world, the Global Energy Parliament wishes to issue the following statement.

Violence is prompted by negative emotional energy, which is the product of negative thought energy. Thoughts are heavily influenced by what we see and hear, and in today's society, that is largely fed by an irresponsible media preying on the baser emotions of men and women. This has come about only because our educational system is teaching the individual that one is separate : from others, from society, from the nation, world and universe. This schism leads to sorrow and destructive patterns of behavior.

The 'Education for Total Consciousness' teaching methodology, which has been studied by the Global Energy Parliament Research Centre and practiced for more than a decade at our schools, offers the scientific system of identifying oneself with the world around. When that identification becomes complete, one becomes the universe itself. Every thought, emotion and action of the individual will affect the universe, and vice versa. Only what contributes to the wellbeing of the world will bring true happiness to oneself.

This educational methodology has to be brought into practice to help the creation of genuine human beings. Knowledge alone can bring about lasting, sustainable changes in humanity. We need education that will make humans real human beings, and 'Education for Total Consciousness' is the single and unique way to save ourselves from degeneration and decay.

Secretary

January 2, 2013